MUSIC INTHE HOME

Oh, music! Sphere-descended maid Friend of pleasure, wisdom's aid! -William Collins.

GAD! HOW MUSIC DOES CHEER THOSE BOYS IN TRENCHES

Getting music to the soldiers at the front is one of the many problems the military organizers of the present day have to selve. But no matter how difficult it may be, some means must be found whereby the Tommies, the Polins, and the Sammies will have their music. The fact is, the commanding officers in every army and on every front have found that it is almost as necessary to maintain the spirit and morale of the men through unfailing supplies of food all kinds as it is to maintain their bodily vigor through unfailing supplies of food fience no effort and no expense is spared to provide them with the mears for this relaxation, diversion, and inspiration.

Sometimes the spirit and morale of the maintain the spirit must be borne to the men in the treathes over almost impossible obstacedes. But forward they go, just as do

British outpost in Asia. Imagine the enthusiastic delight experienced by those home-hungry soldiers as this instrument so closely associated with the home is borne to them. As the old familiar tunes and songs were played and sung, thoughts must have traveled to thousands of home in England, and the distance of half the world must have distance of half the world must have been bridged in recollection of the scenes which had taken place but a few months come any obstacle.

Few appreciate how large a role music plays in the life of the soldiera. Only those who see the men off duty in their barracks or on relief from their parasported on a mule sled across the sandy vastness of the Sahara Desert to the troops of a loss of the life of the soldiera. Only those who see the men off duty in their barracks or on relief from their posts on the firing line can realize what music means to them, and what an important element it is in their lives.

"Hooray, the Fourth of July:"

"Come on, Mike, let's play soldiers. I'm George Washington and you're the Kaiser."

"Come in here and get dressed. Don't you know it's only 6 o'clock, with all your noise," a grown-up called out.

This is the way the Fourth of July broke in upon the 100 or more kiddies at Camp Goodwill, cut in Rock Creek Park, and Camp Pleasard, Deanwood Heights, where poor mothers and their children are being given a two-week vacation.

AMERICA'S GROSS DEBT NOW $11,350,376,680

America's gross debt at the close of business April 30 was $11,350,376,-680.26, the Treasury announces. The net debt was $10,604,523,735.55.

There could be no better way to break down the barriers between nationalities than on the neutral ground of songs, according to R. G. McCutch an. dean of Depauw University, Greencastie, Ind. in an article on "Community Music and the Council of Defense." in the proceedings of the Music Teachers' National Association. He explains why the immigrant does not sing the folk songs of his native country, thus allowing rag time to supplant the heautiful things he has learned in his childhood and which he could give to his new world companions. Dr. McCutchan anys:

"Unfortunately it frequently happens that the foreigner leaves behind him the lovely old melodies of his childhood when he makes tracks for the land of the almighty dollar. To him these melodies have none of the traditional charms with which our cultured imagination invests their beauty. They are merely fragments of the life of poverty he wants to for-get; he is almost ashamed of them, preferring ragtims as symbolic of his emancipation.

emancipation.

"But he is capable of being made to understand the rich harvest be brings in his memory from his old home; and he should be everywhere encouraged to sing the traditional songs that are still unknown and uncollected. In this way many treasures have been found. Our own old songs, too, are so very lovely that they ought to be kept alive, if only as an antidote to the ubiquitous ragitime.
